ICDLI / proHPL – Technical Leaflets

The International Committee of the Decorative Laminates Industry (ICDLI) and the “proHPL Fachgruppe Dekorative Schichtstoffplatten” - a network of HPL producers in German-speaking countries, are expert committees of renowned manufacturers of decorative laminates. They pool their expertise on technical and communicative topics relating to HPL materials, their properties, processing and use.

As a committee member, in addition to our own information and documents, we would like to point out the technical information and leaflets published by the ICDLI and proHPL.

You will find these under:
